Slain for $2.35

Blonde Cleared—With farmboy Franklin Jenner, 21, reported as having confessed $2.35 murder of Mrs. Florence L. Ames (above) at Syracuse, blonde Mrs. Lucien Martin, 22, today was cleared by police. She and Jenner were found working on East Newbury, Vt., farm.

GAMBLER'S BODY GIVEN TO MOTHER

In the candle-lit stillness of an undertaker's chapel today, three women matched their wills in a battle for the possession of the body of John Wheelock, gambler, slain Saturday in an $8500 holdup of a Malden poker game—his sweetheart, his wife and his aged mother.

The mother won, and the body was sent by A. N. Ward & Son to Mrs. Florella Wheelock, in care of the Garden Hotel, Hartford, Conn. From there it may be reshipped to Cleveland, O., the city of his birth.

First to claim the body was "Mrs. Lena Wheelock," ostensibly his wife, the woman questioned after he had been killed in an underworld raid on the basement of a building in Waverly street, Malden.

2 CLAIM TO BE WIFE

She lingered around the police station long after the questioning was over, waiting, hoping for some sign that his death might be cleared up by police. And it was she who first went to the Ward establishment, seeking to establish her claim. She gave her address as that of the slain man—Chester street, Allston.

Before any action could be taken, however, came Mrs. Ann Wheelock, who said she lives in Hartford, although she was stopping temporarily in Lynn.

Confused, the undertakers demanded proof of the women's claims. Mrs. Ann Wheelock produced a marriage certificate, showing she and Wheelock were married in 1923 at Lynn. Again action was deferred, and then came a telegram from the mother.

John Wheelock

The three-way deadlock was broken today when Mrs. Ann Wheelock signed a release in favor of the mother's claim. The claim of the supposed "sweetheart" was put aside in favor of the two-to-one combine against her.

Included in Wheelock's record—the written reports of his clashes with the authorities, minor for the most part—are two instances, both

Public Whipping For Auto Thieves Goodwin's Plan

Public horse-whipping for automobile thieves and "loopers" was advocated today by Motor Vehicle Registrar Frank A. Goodwin—and at the same time he advised a few public lashes for "advocates of self-expression who would oppose this punishment."

"It is apparent," said Goodwin in his statement, "that the present method of punishing these young thieves who steal and destroy other people's cars and endanger the lives of innocent persons in our streets is ineffectual.

"They are taken into court and get a pat on the wrist, and even if sent to jail it doesn't seem to do much good.

"I seriously believe that the legislature should pass a bill calling for corporal punishment in public, with a horse-whipping, so that their so-called heroism would be changed to humiliation.

"I suppose, of course, the advocates of self-expression would oppose this punishment, but it would not do any harm to give them a couple of wallops."

The registrar's wrath was prompted by a week-end especially marked by car thefts and crashes.

The registrar's wrath was prompted by a wild chase through the streets of South Boston, Dorchester and Roxbury in which a quintet of boys raced through traffic-filled streets in a stolen car.

BOY BADLY HURT

In critical condition as a result is John Chairamonte, 11, of Clarence street, Roxbury. He is at City Hospital. A second alleged occupant of the car that ended its wild career against the wall of a building on Blue Hill avenue, Robert Kidrick, 15, of Winthrop street, Roxbury, was also being treated, according to police.

Held by police in connection with the same case were Robert Holt, 15, of Stafford street, Roxbury; Louis Naratsky, 14, of Ellington street, Dorchester, and Gordon Pettipas, 15, of Warren street, Roxbury.

Hitler, Mussolini, Franco Called Into War Crisis Parley

ROME, Feb. 20 (INS)—Despite official disclaimers in Berlin and elsewhere, it was confirmed in authoritative diplomatic sources here today that Mussolini, Hitler and Spain's Generalissimo Franco plan to meet sometime before March 15 to decide upon joint action "for a radical solution of the French-Italian crisis."

At the same time, however, official Italian sources discounted rumors of a grave crisis arising from French military occupation of a strip of Somaliland ceded to Italy under the defunct Laval Agreement of 1935.

"Italy is not the least intimidated by French augmentation of Somaliland garrisons," a spokesman said, but he added that widespread mobilization in that area "might lead to serious consequences."

NEVER OCCUPIED AREA

Reports from Paris that Senegalese troops had occupied the strip of territory impelled authoritative quarters in Rome to reply that inasmuch as Italy never occupied the territory under the Laval pact, Rome could hardly consider her Italian interests damaged.

Continued reinforcement of French garrisons in Somaliland, however, is viewed by Italy with considerable alarm not as a serious military threat but because of the

Developments in Europe's war crisis today included:

ROME—Authoritative sources confirmed reports Hitler, Mussolini and Spain's Franco were to confer prior to March 15 on the French-Italian colonial situation.

BERLIN—Nazi press launches new drive against President Roosevelt as "war monger." Meanwhile, Italian press warns "Roosevelt is leading the democracies into war."

LONDON—Britons are puzzled by Roosevelt fear of new war crisis, although armament fight is pressed in Commons as reports come of Italy massing troops.

WOMEN, 2 MEN UNDER U. S. TRIAL AS SPIES

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 20 (AP)—Accused of endangering the national safety of the United States by stealing confidential information from naval intelligence files, a Russian couple and a former policeman went on trial in federal court today.

The defendants are Mikhail Nicholas Gorin, Pacific coast head of a Soviet travel bureau; his pretty wife, Natasha, and Hafis Salich, Russian-born American citizen, who resigned from the Berkeley (Cal.) police department to contribute his linguistic talents to the naval intelligence.

By stipulation, the trial was held without a jury. Judge Ralph E. Jenney presided.

Federal prosecutors alleged that Gorin hired Salich to procure secret data to which he had access as a naval intelligence employe. This information, it was asserted, was intended by Gorin for transmission to the Soviet government.

All three defendants denied any violation of the peace-time provisions of the espionage act

Yachtsman Counters Wife's Divorce Suit

Countering action brought by his wife three weeks ago, Arthur E. Haid, Brookline yachtsman, today brought suit in probate court, Dedham, for divorce from Helen G. Haid, Brighton.

Haid charges cruelty and desertion.

In her earlier action, Mrs. Haid, who was a member of the faculty of Miss Chapin's school, exclusive New York finishing academy for girls, charged her husband with unfaithfulness, naming a Newton woman.

The attachment was requested by Atty. James E. Conway, counsel for Mrs. Haid, to assure suitable support pending hearing of the suit.

The marriage took place in Hull, Oct. 2, 1934.

FINE VINCENT CLUB GIRLS IF LATE FOR SHOW REHEARSAL

POLLY BLODGETT
In "Tonight at Eight"

By BETTY ALDEN
Society Editor of Boston Evening American

Eminently correct cavortings, punctuated by aristocratic tap steps, echoed in the socially-preferred ballroom of the Somerset today as blue-blooded younger members of the Vincent Club turned out for the first trials for the annual Vincent Club show.

This year it is to be called "Tonight at Eight," and is being staged under the direction of Chester Brooks, a professional from New York. It will be given March 23, 24 and 25.

The session opened with a lecture by Mr. Brooks on the virtues of punctuality for rehearsals, and the establishment of a set of fines, ranging from 25 cents to half a dollar for such offenses as they might perpetrate. Each pays $10, incidentally, to appear in the show, that sum going for costumes and other equipment.

The list of those who turned out reads like an abridged version of the Blue Book. Here are some of them:

Emily Saltonstall, the governor's daughter; Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, niece and namesake of the chatelaine of the White House; Polly Blodgett, national ice-skating champion, and Lucy Cochran, entirely recovered from her plunge into the basin of the Charles.

Lucy appeared, incidentally, with "Lackman," the Afghan wolf-hound she was trying to rescue when the ice broke away under her. It was not explained what part, if any, her pet is to have.

The committee is made up of Mrs. George Bemis, chairman; Julia Barbour, programs; Mrs. John Blyth, Charlotte Rantoul, Ellen Moseley and Mrs. James Parker II, who is in charge of publicity.

Grid Star's Bride Drinks Poison, Dies

TULSA, Okla., Feb. 20 (AP) — The secret marriage of Tommy Thompson, star quarterback of the University of Tulsa football team, ended in tragedy today when Ruth Breene Thompson, 24, his bride of two weeks, swallowed poison and died 15 minutes later.

County Investigator H. W. Cullison said the death was suicide.

The grief-stricken young husband, also 24, said he knew of no motive for her act and that she left no note and made no statement to relatives or friends.

"She walked into the bathroom and came out gasping," Thompson told Cullison.

"I asked her why she did it and she shook her head."

Thompson told reporters and police he and his wife were married a short time after taking out a license here February 4.

When the marriage license record appeared both Thompson and his wife denied they were married.

A school rule would have made Thompson ineligible for football next year if he had been married.

3 Tiskets, 3 Taskets

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 20 (AP)—Triplets—two boys and a girl—born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lavery of Friendly Grove shared a big clothes basket in their home until the Red Cross came to the family's aid today and supplied two extra baskets.

The babies, Dr. H. W. Sachs said, all are husky and "doing splendidly."

Doris Kenyon Set To Divorce Third; Wed Four Months

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Feb. 20—Doris Kenyon, thrice wed star of the silent flickers, admitted today that her second marriage of less than four months was "hasty," "ill-advised," and would soon be ended in the Nevada divorce courts.

The statueaque blonde who won fame on the concert stage as well as in the movies in the late twenties revealed the marital break with Albert D. Lasker, national advertising agency executive, in a brief typewritten statement.

Lasker, 58, was reported to be at the Mayo clinic in Rochester, Minn.

"We have found our hasty marriage incompatible," Miss Kenyon said. "We have decided to end it and thus maintain our valued friendship, for we have the highest regard for each other."

TRAGEDY FILLED LIFE

A graduate of Barnard College, and a native of Syracuse, the girl who sold blonde and regal dignity in the days of the flapper and Clara Bow, Miss Kenyon's life has been filled with tragedy.

Daughter of James B. Kenyon, a poet, her early life was filled with friendships with the great, the near-great, and the would-be-great.

Her first husband was Milton Sills, a star at the height of his glory when Miss Kenyon met him. Their marriage was one of the events of Hollywood's social life.

Within a few years Sills died.

Miss Kenyon had been saved from burning to death on a ship that caught fire while she was filming scenes off the New Jersey coast. Suddenly an accumulation of reverses overtook her, and while recovering from burns, she became ill.

Sickness after sickness followed.

Slowly, she began to make a comback on the concert stage and in vaudeville. She appeared in a few sound pictures.

In 1933, she married Arthur Hopkins, New York broker, and four months later announced she would divorce him.

HASTY MARRIAGE proved incompatible, agree Albert D. Lasker and Doris Kenyon, former screen star, so she will seek Nevada divorce. She and the wealthy advertising man were wed less than four months ago.

Has Toothache; Cutter Called

That there is no job too big for the coast guard has long been known, that there is none too small was proved today.

The cutter Harriet Lane demonstrated this when it raced 180 miles to the aid of the Boston fishing trawler Dorchester with a phial of toothache drops.

Coast guard headquarters had been requested by the skipper of the trawler to "do something" about helping one of his fishermen suffering with an aching molar.

Rush Food to 5000 Children in Maine

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (AP)—Federal officials said today that the Surplus Commodities Corporation had shipped four carloads of food to Maine to relieve 5000 children suffering from malnutrition.

Shipments included oranges, flour and evaporated milk. The food was sent to northern Aroostook County where the children are reported afflicted with scurvy.

Their Irish Up! Demand School Holiday March 17

Declaring they would "take off their gloves and fight for their rights if necessary," members of the South Boston Citizens' Association planned today to storm a school committee hearing with their demand that March 17 be made a school holiday.

Irish associations and patriotic groups also threw their support to the South Boston organization, declaring that the day which commemorates both Evacuation Day and St. Patrick's Day should be more widely celebrated in Boston.

Phillip L. McMahon of the Central Council of the Irish County Association of Greater Boston announced he would head a delegation to protest further sessions on March 17, at today's school committee meeting.

Harry Bishop, president of the South Boston Citizens' Association, was more emphatic in demanding immediate action so that school children may this year be given a holiday.

"We're ready to fight for our rights," Bishop stated. "Members of my organization will appear at the hearing and give some pretty stiff reasons why this holiday should be made a public one."

Bishop stated that Dorchester Day is just as important historically to Boston as Bunker Hill Day when the children are given a full school holiday.

Meanwhile, it was announced that the famous 17th of March celebration in South Boston is expected this year to break all records, both in attendance and enthusiasm.

END WOES OF HUNGRY FAMILY

Hungry, cold and ill, a Roxbury mother and her four-day-old baby today found friendly care at City Hospital after Welfare Commissioner William G. O'Hare personally directed an end to the family's woes.

Meanwhile, her husband, Francis Coleman, 39, was held in $1000 bail in Roxbury district court when he appealed an indefinite sentence to the state farm handed him by Judge Frankland W. L. Miles on drunkenness charges.

The mother is Mrs. Mary Coleman of Brooks avenue, whom police found without food or heat in a two-room apartment. Three other children of the family were suffering from whooping cough.

The latter were the woman's three other children, Esther, 10, Joseph, 3, and Louise, 2, all of whom now have been befriended at the home of an aunt in Brookline.

Commissioner O'Hare took charge of the family's plight personally after police of the Dudley street station reported the case.

Commissioner O'Hare declared the family was on relief and that he had acted when police reported that money given for relief was not, apparently, being spent for needed care.

Skippy's Mother Faces New Woes

Along the hard road that Mrs. Esther Beane and her husband have been traveling there came another step today—with little Kenneth, "Skippy," who is only two, still unknowing.

Saturday, Mrs. Beane was given a suspended sentence of two months in the House of Correction.

Her husband, Wilbur F. Beane, River street, Cambridge, was given a year in jail, most of which would have to be spent in bringing him back to health. He appealed this sentence, but there is a Brookline warrant waiting for him.

Mrs. Beane's case was continued until today. When she appeared in Cambridge court she was turned over to Somerville police on one charge of forgery.

Boston police were also waiting to book her on one similar charge. "Skippy" is now being cared for by relatives.

Burned by Fire Near Gas Tank

Trapped in a ring of flame when a carelessly tossed cigarette ignited loose gasoline near the tank he was filling, James F. Cullinane, 30, of Thurston street, East Boston, stamped out the fire today and prevented what might have been a serious explosion, but was critically burned.

Fumes of the gasoline hung low because of the mist in the air, and the cigarette was tossed to the ground 15 feet from the tank. The blaze started at once, and Cullinane threw his tank truck's hose, capped the filling station reservoir, and jumped on the flames.

He suffered severe burns on the legs, and was taken to Boston City hospital. His condition was reported as serious.

The near-tragedy took place at a station in Guild row, Roxbury.

Saltonstall Tells Agnew of Protests

Governor Saltonstall has informed City Councilor James E. Agnew that he would "have a chance to make good" as state director of fisheries and game, the governor disclosed today.

Saltonstall said that he had informed Agnew of protests from organized sportsmen against the appointment and had told him that he considered the post a full-time job.

Governor Asks Aid For Jobless Youths

Governor Saltonstall sent his secretary, Daniel J. Lynch, to his legislature's joint committee on rules today to pave the way for the formation of a special commission to solve the problem of unemployed youth.

The proposed commission would strive, according to the governor, in coordinating the activities of industry, agriculture and the schools towards providing jobs for idle youth.

Nice Weather, Isn't It? What's Your Kick?

Well, you couldn't very well kick about the weather today on the Eastern Front, because no matter how you kicked you didn't know what you were kicking.

For instance:

New York had a nice day, with the temperature in the lower 60s and expected it to go to 65 by nightfall.

In Boston, in Summer street, it was 62 degrees at 1 p. m.

In Quebec the worst blizzard in 25 years swept over the ancient hills and left a snow blanket three feet deep.

Automobiles and street cars were snow-locked and other forms of transportation crippled.

In Pittsburgh the wind velocity reached 110 miles an hour — and they also had a thunderstorm.

In New Hampshire, sleet fell and coated the roads, making driving hazardous, delaying buses and causing schools to close.

U. S. Meteorologist Robert M. Dole at Portland, scanning his weather maps, raised a weary head and said:

"Conditions are incredible."

And in Boston they said it would be somewhat colder tonight, with the lowest temperature near or slightly below freezing, and with tomorrow fair and colder.

BLONDE IS CLEARED IN $2.35 MURDER

N. Y. Detectives to Rush Youth Back From N. H.

LITTLETON, N. H., Feb. 20—Franklin W. Jenner, 21, of Pompey, N. Y., who, police said, confessed a $2.35 robbery and slaying of Mrs. Florence L. Ames, 50, waived extradition today and was turned over to New York state detectives.

Mrs. Ames was found beaten to death last December 14 in Syracuse, N. Y.

Detectives Frank J. Brissell and Donald Tracy of the New York state police said they would leave late today with their prisoner.

They had questioned also blonde Mrs. Lucien Martin, 22, taken into custody with Jenner but freed here when it was established she had not been in Syracuse on the murder date.

The girl was absolved of any part in the murder by police, but her story was sought because of her friendship with the youth.

Mrs. Ames, supposedly well-to-do, vanished from her home in Syracuse on December 14. Bloodstains which suddenly appeared on the ceiling of a house next door led to the gruesome discovery of her decomposed body, concealed in an attic, last Thursday.

Syracuse authorities traced Jenner to this town and asked police to locate him. Through the cooperation of his companion's estranged husband, the searchers made the arrest.

Jenner was seized as he sat on a stool milking a cow and he offered no resistance. Brought here for questioning, he finally admitted, Chief Gardner said, that he had slain the woman, that robbery was the motive and that he got only $2.35 for his crime.

Wage-Hour Jury Calls 40 Girls

Forty pretty girls crowded into an anteroom of the grand jury chamber in the Federal Building today, waiting to testify against the Lawrence concern which employs them, against which indictments were being sought for minimum wage violations.

The prosecution was first in New England under the federal wage and hour legislation.

According to charges, the concern paid girls as low as $1.50 a week, and changed its books to show payments of $12, and in addition, charged employes five cents a week for ice water.

Here from Washington for the case, Assistant Attorney General Joseph G. Brill presented the evidence, with Assistant U. S. Attorney William T. McCarthy.

M'CALL CHAIR DEATH SET BACK TO FRIDAY

RAIFORD, Fla., Feb. 20 (AP)—Franklin Pierce McCall, his head shaved for the electric chair, today was granted a stay of execution until next Friday to permit an appeal to the United States Supreme Court of his conviction in the death of five-year-old James Bailey Cash, Jr., who was kidnaped and killed last May.

McCall was to have died at the state prison farm here today. Superintendent L. F. Chapman of the prison said he ordered postponement under authority given by the death warrant to hold executions any day of the week set by the governor. He said he acted after a telephone conversation with Governor Cone.

The stay was obtained after relatives bade tearful goodbyes yesterday to the youth who confessed kidnaping the Cash child at Princeton, Fla., last May 28 and collecting $10,000 ransom after his victim was dead.

C. A. Avriett of Jasper, McCall's attorney, said he would go to Washington to present the case to the Supreme Court.

Paul Fried Bunge, convicted slayer of his wife and two children, was executed in the electric chair at 10:12 a. m.

The governor yesterday stayed the death of Clyde Hysler, 22, of Jacksonville, for 30 days because charges had not been finally settled against the convicted murderer's two alleged accomplices. Hysler was convicted as the instigator of a holdup slaying.

Gloria Vanderbilt 15 Today, Plans Creative Art Career

NEW YORK, Feb. 20—Celebrating her 15th birthday today, little Gloria Vanderbilt, pretty brunette heiress of $4,000,000, stood on the threshold of her social career, but determined that her wealth shall not prevent her doing "something useful" with her life. She hopes to achieve success as a creative artist.

GLORIA VANDERBILT
Fifteen Years Old Today

Storm center of one of the bitterest custody fights in the history of the courts, she was taken from the care of her mother, Mrs. Gloria Morgan Vanderbilt in 1934, and placed under the guardianship of her aunt, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, wealthy sculptress. The mother, a sister, of Lady Furness, was declared an "unsuitable" parent.

Daughter of the late Reginald Vanderbilt, noted sportsman, Gloria's social career is assured. The Vanderbilt name makes her sure of that.

But Mrs. Whitney has carefully cultivated the child's artistic talents, and Gloria has made real progress in designing and hopes to make a name for herself in the world of creative art.

Gloria spends most of the year at Mrs. Whitney's Long Island estate, and last summer made her first social bid with attendance at New York and Newport parties.

Her mother, who has become involved in a series of lawsuits following several unsuccessful ventures as the owner of exclusive gown shops, is now in Europe. She gets an allowance of $21,000 a year from little Gloria's estate.

Fingerprints Left By School Vandals

It will no longer be a joke if police find the boys who broke into the John B. Cashman Grammar School in Paris street, East Boston, sabotaged several hundred dollars' worth of property and climaxed their vandalism by turning in a fire alarm.

Determined to stop such senseless destruction of public property, the authorities have launched an investigation they think is bound to bring results.

Special Officer Herbert Patterson of the East Boston police, in charge of the investigation, found some fingerprints on articles handled by the vandals. With these as a start the investigation was kept up in hopes of getting the culprits.

The intruders first broke the lock of a basement window grating, then broke the window to obtain entry. They ranged at will through the six class rooms. They ransacked desks and threw books, papers and other equipment on the floors.

They hurled ink on the furniture, floors and walls. They squirted the chemical liquid from fire extinguishers. They yanked out boxes and wires of the school telephone system. They tore plants from window boxes and strewed the plants and dirt on the floor. They pulled the drawers out of the teachers' desks and emptied their contents.

As a final defiant gesture they broke the glass of the auxiliary fire alarm box, pulled down the hook and then left. Firemen responding to the alarm discovered the damage and made report to police.

'Missing' Chelsea Girls Return Home

The suspected "Hollywood jaunt" of two Chelsea girls amounted to only an overnight stay at the home of a girl friend, the parents notified police today.

Police had been asked to look for Esther Copeland, 13, of Grove street, and Gladys Williams, 15, of Spencer avenue, when they failed to return home.

Fear N. Y. Bund Bombing Tonight

A squad of 16 policemen remained on 24-hour guard after a search of the hall following receipt of a letter at the mayor's office asserting three time bombs would be hidden in the building. Nothing was found.

Commissioner Valentine assigned 1327 policemen to the Garden this evening to prevent any outbreak between Bund members and anti-Nazi organizations which have announced they will picket the meeting.

Fritz Kuhn, Bund leader, said 3000 uniformed "storm troopers" would help keep order. He said the rally, opposed by the American Legion and other organizations, was for the promotion of "true Americanism."

Girls on Trial As Gang 'Lures'

Charged with having acted as "lures" for the victims, two pretty waitresses went to trial today in Suffolk Superior Court, with two alleged accomplices, on robbery charges.

The girls are Fay Mikulka, 19, of Porter street, Chelsea, and Marie Silver, 19, of South Margin street, North End.

Also on trial are Ralph Conti, 24, of Marion street, East Boston, and Jerry Iandoli, 21, of Bulfinch street, West End, suspected member of a gang still being hunted by police.

All are charged with conspiracy to rob and robbery of Paul Kudsen, of Chicago, of $8, a watch and chain.

Conti and Iandoli also face additional charges of assault with intent to rob Frederick M. Plambeck, Chicago.

Assistant Dist. Atty. James T. Cassidy charged the girls lured the victims from a Washington street cafe to the scene of the alleged crime.

All four defendants pleaded not guilty.

MEN LOVE GIRLS WITH PEP

If you are peppy and full of fun, men will invite you to dances and parties . . .

BUT if you are cross, listless and tired, men won't be interested. Men don't like "quiet" girls. When they go to parties they want girls along who are full of pep.

So in case you need a good general system tonic, remember for 5 generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling thru" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps build up more physical resistance and thus aids in giving you more pep and lessens distress from female functional disorders.

You'll find Pinkham's Compound WELL WORTH TRYING!

F. D. R. Statement Mystifies Europe

LONDON, Feb 20 (INS)—Anxiety was kept alive throughout Europe today by fresh international bickerings, yet observers saw no surface indications of any trouble of sufficient moment that it might cause President Roosevelt to cut short his naval trip, as he said Saturday he might have to do.

The Old World, indeed, was puzzled by Mr. Roosevelt's statement that he had received foreboding reports from Europe totalitarian nations scoffed at it, but in the democracries there was no inclination to belittle the President's declaration.

Suggestions that Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy might have given the President a gloomy picture following talks with Premier Chamberlain and Foreign Minister Lord Halifax last Friday were not corroborated in embassy circles, where complete bewilderment was expressed by attaches.

Nye Seeks Ban On Plane Sales

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (INS)—Stirredb y activities of an official French air mission here in buying war planes with the aid of the Roosevelt administration, Senator Gerald P. Nye, (R) of North Dakota, today introduced a bill in the Senate to strengthen existing laws against sales of airplanes to foreign countries.

Senator Nye, a member of the senate military affairs committee and a critic of the secrecy that surrounded the visit of the Frenchmen, was joined by Senator Bennett Champ Clark, (D) of Missouri, another committeeman, in urging tightening of the law.

Both agreed additional safeguards need to be thrown around the manufacture and sale of war planes in which the United States Army and Navy have an interest.

In other words, an already dangerous situation has been made somewhat worse.

ITALY PLANS SECRET

There were strong indications that Italy might feel compelled to take "adequate precautionary measures" to counter-balance the French action. Details of any such plans were a closely guarded secret.

So far as the Mussolini-Hitler-Franco meeting is concerned, it was understood it would take place at some unspecified city in northern Italy.

Foreign diplomatic observers regard the conference as a certainty and expressed belief it would be aimed at laying the groundwork for mutual assistance and collaboration if the French-Italian controversy should lead to war.

Italy Leader Warns F. D. Is 'Leading U. S. to War'

ROME, Feb. 20 (AP)—Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano's newspaper, Il Telegrafo, charged todayithat an "imperialistic, Puritin minority" of American leaders, headed by President Roosevelt, was starting the United States toward a "democratic war."

Giovanni Ansaldo, in the paper's leading editorial, wrote that the "arming of American minds, even more dangerous than enormous material armaments," failed to impress Italians.

Italians do not believe, he declared, that Providence has given Americans a "blank check" on which they can write any victory they want.

The editorial appeared as Marshal Pietro Badoglio, chief of the Italian general staff, arrived in Libya on a mysterious mission which foreign observers believed had some connection with recent troop reinforcements in that Italian territory adjoining Tunisia, French North African protectorate. Tunisia figures largely in an Italian campaign for French territory.

Nazi Press Launches New Blast at Roosevelt

BERLIN, Feb. 20 (INS)—Labelling him a "politician of catastrophe," the Nazi press opened a new broadside on President Roosevelt today for his suggestion he may have to curtail his West Indies cruise because of "disturbing" reports from Europe.

Mounting anger in official German circles was reflected by a front-page spread in the newspaper Nachtausgabe under the headline:

"Roosevelt surprises Europe; he again sees the ghost of war."

While government spokesmen cited Roosevelt's reported remark as "another example of the hysteria and war psychosis which prevails in democratic countries," the Nachtausgabe declared that all of Europe had been taken by surprise by the President's war fears.

"Roosevelt is again disturbing America with the statement he has received grave news which might force him to cancel his trip," the paper said.

"American news agencies have investigated everywhere, but neither London, Paris, Rome nor Berlin discovered any symptoms indicating a new European crisis.

"The American press has unmasked him again as a political busybody with an irresponsible war cry. Therefore the question remains: Does Roosevelt want to force war in Europe through his everlasting war babbling so that the American armament industry may profit thereby?

"Or is the American press right in interpreting the hysterical outbreak of the President merely as a manepver to divert attention from domestic difficulties?"

Big Air Base Bill Wins First O. K.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20 (INS)—The House Rules ommittee today approved the administration's $53,800,-00 naval air base bill, including its provision for Guam, s the re-energized Republican minority prepared to open s first major attack on President Roosevelt's foreign olicy.

The measure, which also carries athorization for establishment of 2 new air bases in the Atlantic nd Pacific, is slated to come up i the House tomorrow. In seeking the Rules Committee's approval, Chairman Vinson assured Republican members he would not attempt to block a showdown vote on Guam.

This development came as the minority seized on the activities of the Export-Import Bank for the opening barrage on Mr. Roosevelt's handling of foreign relations. G. O. P. members served notice they would attempt to curtail or terminate altogether, the bank.

IL DUCE SPEEDS TROOPS

LONDON, Feb. 20 (AP)—An Italian decision to send "30,000 more troops" to Libya, North Africa, was announced today in the House of Commons as the British government sought approval of its costly rearmament program.

R. A. Butler, under-secretary for foreign affairs, said Italy had informed Lord Perth, British ambassador to Rome, she was "sending 30,000 more troops to Libia . . . to provide for the security" of the North African territory.

Thirty thousand troops had remained in Libya after reductions in the force had been effected under the Anglo-Italian accord ratified last November.

Meanwhile the two-day debate in the Commons on defense—over a resolution to increase the government's borrowing power for defense from $2,000,000,000 to $4,000,000,000—promised important revelations on Britain's foreign policy, armed strength and the pace of her rearming.

Butler's disclosure was made before Commons opened debate on the cost and progress of Britain's rearmament program.

Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, formally sought authority to borrow $4,000,000,000 instead of the originally authorized $2,000,000,000 to finance rearmament, which he said was now approaching the "full blast of production."

Sir John said rearmament had reached such a scale that "it would be inequitable if the whole cost should be debited to the few years in which it were incurred."

This statement was welcomed as an indication that the government was not planning a sizable, if any, increase in the income tax for the coming budget.

Franco Stands Pat on Terms

PARIS, Feb. 20 (AP)—France and Britain today sought a new approach toward peace in Spain and a basis for recognition of Nationalist Generalissimo Franco's regime as the legal Spanish government.

Senator Leon Berard, French emissary, and Sir Robert M. Hodgson, British commercial agent to Nationalist Spain, conferred in Burgos after talks with the Nationalists had snagged on persistent Nationalist demands for unconditional surrender by the republican government.

A showdown was expected Wednesday when the two planned a further interview with General Count Francisco Gomez Jordana, Franco's foreign minister.

Franco's representatives last night reiterated the generalissimo's ruling that only unconditional surrender of the government in the last one-fourth of Spain it holds or final victory for Nationalist arms could end the two and one-half-year civil war.

'Peace Umbrella' O. K.'d by Queen

LONDON, Feb. 20 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth today approved Prime Minister Chamberlain's famous umbrella as a "symbol of peace."

"That's a splendid idea," she said when shown a replica of Chamberlain's umbrella during a visit to the British industries fair.

Mother's Standby in Treating
CHILDREN'S COLDS

FOR RELIEVING discomforts of chest colds and night coughs, rub Vicks VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. Its poultice-vapor action relieves local congestion and helps the youngster relax into restful sleep.

FOR COUGHING and irritated throat due to colds, put VapoRub on the child's tongue. It melts, bathes the throat with comforting medication. Also massage on throat and chest.

FOR HEAD-COLD "sniffles" and misery, melt a spoonful of VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water. Have the child breathe in the steaming vapors. This loosens phlegm, clears air-passages.

The Obligation of France to Italy

WHAT EN LANDS peace of appeasement really means in Mr [illegible] is reciprocal concession and compromise to [illegible] beneficial objectives.

It [illegible] as well as advantage of both [illegible] matters on an open-minded basis [illegible] than by force.

It is [illegible] accomplishment of what the League of Nations was [illegible] it never was able to do, put [illegible] under the domination of France and England.

The Versailles Treaty was undeniably a treaty of [illegible] [illegible] conspicuously certain to produce [illegible] wars.

These wars could be avoided by eliminating [illegible] causes of international misunderstanding and [illegible] maintaining a complete [illegible] armaments, but the more [illegible] and just.

THERE IS ANOTHER treaty, entered into [illegible] France and Italy on the one side and Italy on the [illegible] which [illegible] Versailles Treaty. A [illegible] settlement [illegible]

The [illegible] Italy to enter the war [illegible] April, 1915.

The [illegible] was of immense advantage to [illegible] Allies, [illegible] Italy had remained in the [illegible] Powers [illegible] would have been [illegible] for France [illegible] and [illegible] would [illegible] war [illegible].

At the end [illegible] France gained an [illegible] power [illegible] power on the part of the Allies – which [illegible] war.

But [illegible] Italy created an equal balance of power [illegible] war from being [illegible] Powers, and [illegible] support of [illegible] France.

Italy [illegible] important to France and [illegible] and [illegible] as America was.

Both [illegible] and each possessed the [illegible] existence of France [illegible].

Yet [illegible] Italy and the United States [illegible] treated [illegible] and [illegible] by the Allies [illegible].

The [illegible] promised every [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] perform [illegible] [illegible].

BECAUSE OF THE TREATY of 1915, which Italy [illegible] [illegible] was the chief factor for Italy's [illegible] [illegible] of France, the territory and [illegible] [illegible] promised.

France [illegible] pledge of liberal concessions to Italy [illegible] [illegible] signed at that critical time.

But [illegible] emergency was over, the obligation was forgotten.

In 1917 an agreement was negotiated between France and Italy for a partial fulfillment of these obligations; and while Italy [illegible] French government never would sign it, and consequently rejected [illegible] a part fulfillment of her obligations to her associates. Italy [illegible] repudiated her obligation to her associate, the United States.

We are [illegible] approval of dictators or not, – and we do not – [illegible] we are sick of the facts and circumstances which led [illegible] the creation of dictators.

IT IS THE FAITHLESSNESS of France that has made possible the acceptance of dictators by both a country which was [illegible] enemy and a country which was her ally.

It is France that has compelled general armament by her own refusal to disarm, although pledged to do so by signed agreements and formal treaties.

It is France that has compelled the resort to force, because from France there was no hope of justice by reason.

It is the appeasement policy of England which holds out the only hope for peace – peace based on the sanctity of treaty obligations freely entered into, peace guaranteed by equity and [illegible] justice.

Collective peace policy, if it is a policy which guarantees the fulfillment of just obligations to ALL countries, including the United States, is a policy which all countries should join in maintaining and supporting,—and which all countries probably will support except France.—France which has never relinquished an occupation and never fulfilled one.

TULLY CONFESSES

At last! You can take Miss [illegible]. What did the property [illegible] and what was its approximate value?"

"Some of stock in Cinderella Enterprises, and my royalties [illegible]. It was worth over a million [illegible]."

"Is that your appraisal?"

"No. I was offered that for it by Drexel Curtiss & Company."

Austin raised his brows. "Well. That ought to settle that. Was the property legally transferred, by a legal document?"

[illegible]

TULLY CLINKER DEFIES Assistant District Attorney who accuses Flora Brent and Agatha Hodge of conspiring to seize Mr. Cinderella's millions. William F. Hubbard of Lynn, Academie Moderne instructor, poses as Tully Clinker; Miss Ann Carleton of Worcester, left, as Flora Brent, and Miss Eunice Knudson of Boston as Agatha Hodge.

'Bulger' Lowe's Epic Told by His Friend

Austen Lake played football with George H. (Bulger) Lowe of Arlington at Exeter and Lafayette. They went to the World War together, and later scored as football officials. Lake is too deeply grieved at this time by Lowe's death to attempt to write about his friend. The following article written by Lake about "Bulger" Lowe was published in the Boston Transcript on December 5, 1927, when Austen was associated with that newspaper.

WHEN Captain John L. Gammell, referee, blew his whistle to end the Steamroller-Pottsville game at Providence yesterday afternoon, he unconsciously brought to an end the playing career of one of football's storied veterans. For his brief, shrill blast sounded taps so far as George H. Lowe of Arlington is concerned with the active end of the game.

AUSTEN LAKE

Four Times a Captain

THERE MAY BE three or four football players in this country who have played as much football as Bulger Lowe—and we have in mind the records of Jim Thorpe, Guyon and Al Pierotti when we say this—but it is safe to say that no one has played more

Four times in his career, strangely enough once in each phase—has he been captain of a football team. At Arlington High in 1912, at Exeter in 1914-15, at Fordham in 1916 and at Boston in 1926 when the 40-Odd professional team struggled against failure.

An Amazing Feat

Only once in eighteen years has he been disabled so badly that he had to be taken from the field. That was in a 1920 game in Canton, when he was Indianized from the rear and suffered torn hip muscles that laid him up for several weeks. On Saturday, before the Steamroller-New York Yankee (Grange's team) game at Syracuse, Lowe weighed 172 pounds. At Exeter thirteen years ago Lowe weighed 175 pounds. A commentary on the uniformity of his physical condition over a range of a dozen years.

JOHN A. SARGENT, president of the insurance firm of Roosevelt & Sargent, Inc., was at the Skating Club of Boston watching his daughter, Ann, do some numbers in fancy skating with Sally Badger. Sargent was one of the group that made the new $100,000 quarters of the Skating Club of Boston possible.

Sargent was interested in the news that Walter Brown of the Garden has signed Sonja Henie for an ice carnival tour in England.

"It will be an interesting trip for Walter, and I don't believe he will permit Sonja's temperament to bother him too much," said Sargent. "Sonja is still the greatest ice skating attraction in the world even though Evelyn Chandler is a superior skater. The little Norwegian girl has a bewitching smile and a million dollars worth of personality when she is on the ice."

Sargent recently returned from Europe where he closed business deals for handling of part of the insurance for the trans-Atlantic flights of the Pan-American Airways.

"There will be special exercises in connection with the flights in Washington on March 3," said Sargent. "Tell Austen Lake I would like to have him go up in the Yankee Clipper with me for a short spin. This is one of the huge boats that will fly the Atlantic in 24 hours.

"There will be six of these giant boats. Each will cost $700,000 and will have a crew of 16 and accommodations for 40 passengers.

"The boats going to Southampton on the Northern route will refuel in Newfoundland and in Ireland.

"Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of President Roosevelt, who is a director in my insurance company since her son James resigned on account of his film position, will break the bottle of champagne at the christening of the Yankee Clipper.

"Secretary of State Hull and other government officials will then be passengers in a short flight.

"These new trans-Atlantic planes are being made by Boeing which also has the contract for three smaller planes which will be used in hops to South America. The South American planes will be land planes even though at times they may be over the water for brief periods."

American Fliers Best in the World

SARGENT SPOKE with enthusiasm of the daring and ability of American fliers.

"Our American boys are athletic minded, and flying is natural to them," he said. "I believe the American fliers are the best in the world.

"Most of the big airlines have systems similar to those employed in the army and navy. Men are moved along according to ability, and when you find a clear-eyed American in charge of a trans-Atlantic plane you know he is 100 per cent efficient. He has gained promotion as a result of merit.

"It is likely there will be a half holiday in Washington on March 3 to mark the entrance of Pan-American Airway into the trans-Atlantic service.

"Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, an American, was first to span the Atlantic by air alone. Millions of Americans will in time follow Lindbergh but instead of using a small plane they will travel in luxurious air liners."

Fear of War in England

SARGENT SAID that while in England he found people were living in a state of fear in regard to a possible war with Germany.

"There is great fear everywhere in England of air raids," said Sargent. "Even in country areas people with homes have built special cellars underground in wooded sections near where they live. In London, arrangements have been perfected to evacuate as many people out of the city as possible in the event of war."

M'GRATH COMPETES IN B. S. A. TOURNEY

Thomas McGrath, one of New England's leading all-around performers, will head a group of Worcester Boys' Club stars competing Wednesday evening in the 18th annual meet of the Boston Swimming Association at the Boston Y. M. C. A. pool.

McGrath, along with two other Worcester B. C. representatives, John Brayile and John Carney, will seek the N. E. senior 150 yard backstroke championship, one of five title events on the B. S. A. program.

McGrath is the national junior, N. E. senior and Mass. state 220 yard breaststroke champion indoors. He also holds the N. E. record for the event.

The Worcester natator also won the N. E. senior 100 meter backstroke crown last summer, setting a new record while doing so. He is also the state 150 yard backstroke champion and record holder and the state 300 yard medley title-holder, both indoors.

Three other Worcester B. C. stars will seek the N. E. junior 100 yard freestyle championship. They are Theodore Dzikewicz, Francis Goodney and John Carney. This event has also attracted three members of the Worcester Y. They are Jeremiah Reiges, Jr., William Leroy Crocker, Jr. and William Oatley.

The women's events will be featured by the Posse School mermaids, among whom are Norma Seither, Barbara Currier, Helen Roark, Ruth Kinsley, Betty Morgan and Eleanor Weene.

Cunningham Duels Borican In V. F. W. Mile

By MURRAY KRAMER

Boston's short but highly competitive indoor track season comes to a close this week with two major events carded.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars make their bow in big time track promotion with a big holiday meet at the East Newton Street Armory Wednesday night and on Saturday, the annual "Quad" affair between Harvard, Yale, Dartmouth and Cornell brings the track curtain down at the Garden.

This meet on Wednesday night shapes up as a real affair despite the fact that the Garden setting is missing.

When the idea was first hatched the authorities in charge did not dare dream of a Garden splash as they had only outside hopes of attracting the nation's best for the invitation affairs.

But then the entries started to pour in. Glenn Cunningham, John Borican, Harold Cagle, Howard Borck, Jim Herbert, Archie San Romani, Wesley Wallace, Chuck Fenske, Gene Venzke and a host others all agreed to come to Boston for the meet.

With all the headliners competing, an attempt was made to get the Garden but the depot was taken for the evening so the committee has now gone ahead to make everything tip top at the Armory.

The mile and the 600 appear to be the best bets of the night.

Interest throughout the entire nation will be focused on the mile for John Borican, the unbeatable up to three quarters of a mile will oppose Cunningham who has a mere 17 straight mile victories to his credit.

It begins to appear that Borican is the only man who stands a chance to stop the peerless Glenn and it will be interesting to see just what happens. Other entrants in the mile are Archie San Romani, Gene Venzke and Chuck Fenske.

Galento, Feldman Await Miami Gong

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 20 (INS)—Only night conditioning drills were on the programs today for the four main participants in the Washington Birthday boxing card—heavyweights Tony Galento and Abe Feldman, and middleweights Ben Brown and Solly Krieger—to be staged in the Orange Bowl Stadium Wednesday night.

Krieger, world middleweight titleholder, and Brown will meet in a 10-round non-title semi-final bout, and Galento and Feldman will tangle in the main attraction.

Armstrong Plans British Title Defense

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 20 (AP) — Henry Armstrong has signed to defend his welterweight title in London the first week in May, his manager, Eddie Mead, said today.

Armstrong's opponent will be the winner of a bout to be held there shortly between Ernie Roderick and Jake Kilrain.

HELEN ROARK, another Posse school webfoot, who will compete in holiday meet of B. S. A.

Medwick Joins Holdout Ranks

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Joe Medwick, St. Louis Cardinal outfielder and National League batting champion in 1937, has joined the holdout ranks.

Asked what the club had offered him, he said:

"I'm sorry but I never talk about salary to anybody but club officials. But I'm not worrying; let the St. Louis club worry about it."

He is supposed to have received about $17,500 for the 1938 season.

Buster Carroll Faces Kayo Artist in Dell

Referee Jess Willard's choice for a good long shot bet in the welterweight class, Buster Carroll, Lowell, will have his hands full when he faces Carl Dell, New York, in the co-feature 10-round bout at the Goodwin A. C. show to be staged Friday night at the Boston Garden.

In two Boston appearances, Dell has scored a pair of knockouts.

In his Boston debut, Dell, the tough type who flays with both hands, pinned the ether bag on Nova Scotia Bob Allen. He returned to the Hub two weeks back and after lacing Jimmy Murphy of Dorchester for two rounds, was awarded the decision on a technical k. o. The other 10-rounder Friday will pit Johnny Rossi, Worcester, and Henry Chmielewski, Poland, in a return bout.

The Polish lad, out-boxed for the short time that the bout lasted, scored a knockout in the third round, getting up from the canvas to deliver the deciding blow.

Two fours and a pair of six-rounders round out the card.

In the fours, Dominic DeCiantis, Providence, meets Sam Tenore, Quincy, with Johnny Shkor, Baltimore, battling Frank Chudlinski, Hyde Park.

Roark Hurt In Polo Tilt

Pat Roark

Roark, playing No. 2 on the California team against the British international cup quartet, was injured in the fourth chukker as the Britons led 6 to 4.

After stumbling and throwing the famous internationalist, his Mount rolled over him. The British defeated the Californians 12 to 7.

After Roark was removed to Huntington Memorial Hospital in an unconscious condition, Dr. L. B. Sherry and another specialist concurred in a statement that he had received a severe brain injury and a possible skull fracture.

The Irish player also was reported to have suffered a possible broken shoulder and spinal injuries.

Golf Pros Want Ruth In Fold

The promoters all want Babe Ruth to join the golfing caravan. They like the big fellow and figure he'd be a terrific gate attraction.

Jimmy DeLaHanty has had a couple of offers to fight Henry Armstrong, but will keep right on shooting golf in the low 70's at Hollywood unless the ante is raised plenty. . . . Francis Wallace, the sports writer who turned novelist, is dropping so much dough at Hialeah he may have to write another book.

Picard Adds $2000 To Golf Earnings

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 20 (INS)—Henry Picard's winter golf winnings today bulged with an additional lump sum of $2000, his reward for victory in the 72-hole Crescent City open with a total of 284 strokes.

Metz with 289 won $1100 out of the $10,000 purse. Jimmy Thomson of Shawnee-on-the Deleware, Pa., and Harold McSpaden, Winchester, Mass., split third and fourth money with 290s, taking down $900 apiece.

'I'll Draw $3,000,000 This Year'---Jacobs

NEW YORK, Feb. 20 (INS)—When Benny Leonard's father discovered his favorite son had become a prize fighter, the old gentleman remarked: "Oy, oy, Bennah. Fighting? Is that a business?"

If Benny's father were alive today, Promoter Mike Jacobs could assure him that fighting is indeed a business. And a $3,000,000-a-year business at that!

In an exclusive interview with International News Service, the usually close-lipped Jacobs, before leaving for a short Miami vacation, revealed his fight plans for the year.

"Six weeks ago," said Jacobs, "I would have been satisfied to draw gates totaling $1,000,000 in New York this year. But after canvassing the situation thoroughly, I'm convinced I can do $3,000,000 worth of business between now and Christmas.

FAIR BIG HELP

"Before you say I'm crazy, let me point out a few things. You may recall I said a few years ago that I would bring back the million-dollar fight gate. Everybody said I was nuts. But I did it.

"The way I figure, some 60,000,000 visitors will come here for the World's Fair this year. Most of them have heard all the broadcasts of big fights from Madison Square Garden and the ball parks.

"Thousands of these visitors will come from tank towns. They'll come to see the fair, of course. But they'll also want to see Broadway shows and the Garden and the Yanks and Giants and other attractions they've been hearing about all their lives but never saw.

"I'm going to give them a chance to see all the big shots of the fight game from Joe Louis down to Sixto Escobar.

"My original plans called for a dozen indoor shows and maybe one or two outdoor shows this year. Now I'm planning between 25 and 40 shows this year, and I'll be running them outdoors every two or three weeks through the summer.

$300,000 FOR MIKE

"And I'm going to have all the champions defending their titles at least once against the outstanding contenders.

"Did I say we'd draw $3,000,000? Say, that's conservative. Why, I'll draw one-third of that with Joe Louis and the winner of the Lou Nova-Max Baer fight.

"Lou Ambers and Baby Arizmendi will start me off right next week, when they'll draw $50,000 in the Garden. From then on, I'm going to have one big card after another through the summer.

"A fight-heavyweight shot between Billy Conn and the winner of the Dave Clark-John Henry Lewis fight will do at least $200,000.

"Fred Apostoli and Sol Kreiger for the middleweight title will do a sure $250,000.

"Henry Armstrong and Lou Ambers will do $200,000 for the lightweight title. All these, of course, will be outdoor fights."

And what does the promoter get out of all this?

Mike grinned.

"Well, the promoter's bit varies. Anywhere from 10 per cent to 50 per cent. Now, don't worry about Uncle Mike. I'll do all right."

Turnesa 4 Under Par, Finishes Second

PALM SPRINGS, Cal., Feb. 20 (AP)—Willie Turnesa, New York's national amateur golf champion, slashed four strokes from par, yet finished second in his first California tournament, the Palm Springs invitational.

Jack Gaines of Glendale, former California state titlist, won the tourney with a 36-hole total of 131, five under perfect figures for the desert course. Turnesa carded 132.

Cortez, Rogoski On Price Card

Completion of the Arena wrestling program for the weekly Wednesday show of Promoter Sam Price offers the fans a grand nightcap after the holiday rest period.

Jack Sharkey

In the Bull Martin-The Sheik bout with former heavyweight champion, Jack Sharkey, refereeing, mat followers are assured of a standout attraction with the remainder of the card promising as many thrills as a three ring circus.

Ambitious Manual Cortez, Spain moves into the semi-final bout facing Mike Rogoski, Poland, with one fall to decide the winner in a 30-minute time limit affair. Cortez has his heart set on becoming a headliner and the ruination of Rogoski would aid this end no little.

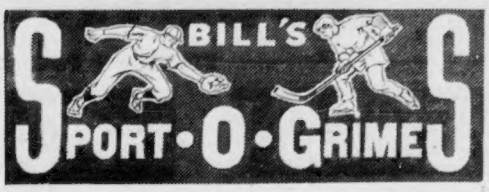
ORIOLES DOMINATED BASEBALL IN GAY NINETIES



Hockey Infringes on Football, Baseball | Bees Open Before Cup Play Ends

One week from today, all major league baseball squads will be in, or en route to, their respective camps, there to remain for a month before trekking back North or East, as the case may be, for the opening of the American and National campaigns.

One month from tomorrow night, the National Hockey League will inaugurate its annual play offs, which will be climaxed by the Stanley Cup series.

Come spring, there may be conflicts in Boston, New York, Detroit or Chicago between the opening of the national pastime season and the finals of the N. H. L. play off series.

Normally, the arrival of ball clubs from the South and the departure of the hockey players for Canada dovetail. But, the N. H. L. is a seven club circuit this year and to keep its "home fires burning" voted to have six of the contending teams in the play offs and to "up" the main events (the Bruins-Ranger and the Stanley Cup series) to four out of seven series.

Starting its season early in November, the N. H. L. infringes on football. Now, it has created a situation whereby a conflict with baseball is a possibility.

Despite its popularity, hockey will never compete successfully with either college football or major league baseball.

But to get back to the possibility of a confliction between the "fastest game on earth" and the great American national pastime.

In the event that seven games are necessary to determine the winner of the Bruins-Ranger play off, the Stanley Cup series cannot get underway until April 6. Of course, by that date, three of the other four qualifiers will have been eliminated, via the best two out of three system. And, if the world's championship series is prolonged for seven games, it will be April 20 before Pres. Frank Calder presents the Stanley Cup to the winner.

And, on April 18, the Bees are scheduled to open their 1939 season with "Doc" Prothro's Phillies at National League Field. But, if the Bruins are eliminated and the Rangers go through to the Stanley Cup series, the situation will be more serious, for along about the middle of April, even the rabid New York devotees of the winter pastime will be tough audiences with the Yankees and Red Sox tangling at the Stadium.

Bill McKechnie, Jr., son of the Cincinnati Red manager, is now in baseball . . . He's assistant to Pres. Paul Florence of the Durham club in the Piedmont League . . . Incidentally, while at Georgetown University, Paul Florence was the outstanding college catcher sought after by big league scouts . . . The Rideout twins, Blaine and Wayne, matriculated at the University of Alabama but, unable to get scholarships, transferred to North Texas Teachers' College . . . Tom Hughes, one of the South Shore Country Club's many 20 and over players, dropped 10 pounds down in Miami golfing with his clubmate Charlie Smart and Jimmy Harkins . . . Harkins must have a keen sense of humor . . . He's been playing golf daily with "Smartie" for two months . . . Nap Lajoie rates Willie Keeler as the greatest hitter of all times . . . Aurel Joliat has taken on weight this winter . . . He's coaching Verdun of the Montreal Senior Group . . . which team, along with Ste. Hyacinthe, will be in the Provincial League next season . . . A. L. Formed After Breakup Of Great Nine

By SID MERCER

CHAPTER 9

Baseball in the nineties was still disturbed by rule changes and factional fights in the National League. The 1894 season marked the rise of the Baltimore Orioles under the management of Ned Hanlon. The Orioles introduced aggressive baseball which developed much strife on the field. John J. McGraw, Wilbert Robinson, Hugh Jennings, Willie Keeler and others were then beginning brilliant careers.

Andrew Freedman acquired the New York club in 1895. He quarreled with John T. Brush in 1896, and the league was torn by factionla fights for several years.

In 1899 the great Baltimore team was broken up and the players scattered. This was the last year of the 12-club circuit.

The National League had prospered because it had no opposition but now it was to face its hardest fight. Ban Johnson, a former Cincinnati baseball writer, had organized the Western League, a minor circuit, in 1893.

Anticipating reduction of the National League clubs to eight Johnson boldly announced the formation of the American League.

Backed by Charles A. Comiskey, who owned the St. Paul club, and others the new league moved into Cleveland and demanded permission to place a club in Chicago.

WHITE SOX CHAMPS

Milwaukee, Indianapolis, Detroit, Kansas City, Cleveland, Buffalo and Minneapolis formed the Western League background for the new circuit. The Chicago White Sox were the pennant winners in 1900.

The American attained major league status in 1901. Refused permission to place clubs in territory vacated by the National League, Johnson and his associates withdrew from the National Agreement.

Indianapolis, Buffalo, Kansas City and Minneapolis were abandoned by Johnson. With strong financial backing he placed clubs in Baltimore, Washington, Philadelphia and Boston.

Connie Mack had gone East from Milwaukee in 1901 to manage the Philadelphia Athletics. That winter the American League invaded St. Louis.

Seven star players jumped from the Cardinals to the new Browns. Combined with the best men on the Milwaukee Club they formed a team that finished second to the Athletics in 1902.

BATTLE OF BANK ROLLS

The battle of bank rolls was a heavy drain on both leagues. Players were jumping back and forth. Salaries skyrocketed to great heights.

McGraw, the Baltimore manager, quarreled with Johnson. In midseason he abandoned his post and took several star players with him to the New York Giants.

Johnson had threatened to invade New York. The National League declared he could not find a spot in Manhattan level enough for a baseball field and stands.

Bill Devery, then New York's chief of police, and Frank Farrell financed the invasion. A ten-year lease was obtained on a rocky eminence in Washington Heights and huge crags were blasted to pieces to level the ground where the Medical Center now stands.

Later in the winter the two leagues got together and formulated the Cincinnati Peace Agreement. Under its terms and with subsequent revisions they have since enjoyed amicable relations.

New York finished fourth that year and lost the pennant in 1904 when Chesbro made a wild pitch that scored the winning run for the Boston Red Sox, whose pitcher was Bill Dinneen, recently retired as an American League umpire.

(Rapid growth of American League under Ban Johnson is described in tomorrow's Boston Evening American.
